In accordance with the University’s “Doctoral and Master’s Program Regulations,” “Academic Research Ethics” is a required course (0 credits) for all doctoral and master’s degree students. Upon enrollment, graduate students must add this course through the Academic Affairs System during the course registration period, and complete the online course and pass the examination offered by the Taiwan Academic Ethics Education Resource Center, Ministry of Education (<https://ethics.moe.edu.tw/>), before the end of the same semester. Only upon passing the examination will the course requirement be deemed fulfilled.

Students who have not passed the course are not eligible to apply for the oral defense of their doctoral or master’s thesis.
